

Historical Newspapers is a rich source of research tips and strategies applicable to any kind of research or inquiry. This K-12 resource allows staff and students to access digital archives of historic British Columbia newspaper content, dating back to the 1880s.

SEARCH OPTIONS

Use the Search feature to get results from different databases. You can also refine your search results by keyword or change the sort to "oldest" or "most recent" to refine your search.

Search terms are highlighted in the digital version of the newspaper, and you can download the PDF version free of mark ups.

RESEARCH SUPPORT

Besides historical newspapers, locate research tips in the form of short video clips, useful for starting any kind of research project.

Also accessible are several other databases, providing access to scholarly articles, statistical records, and primary and secondary sources.

DYNAMIC CONTENT

The home page features different highlighted content each time the page is opened. This encourages students to investigate research and inquiry tips.

Research and inquiry support includes short videos covering topics such as Asking Good Questions and How to Cite an Article.

CLASSROOM ACTIVITIES

Search old newspapers for contemporary coverage of historical events.

Learn about advertising or graphic design methods or examine the use of language.

Reveal trends over time and compare modern newspapers to historical ones.

NEWS CONTENT

Vancouver Sun

Vancouver Province

Victoria Times Columnist

Privacy

For more information and access to the Digital Classroom, visit <https://focusedresources.ca/en/digital-classroom-access>

