At some times hurts on your birthday. I know, some of my friends Kyle landed on me while I was under a blanket. I was under a blanket because we were playing a game of hide and seek. It was my ninth birthday on Feb 11, 2011. It hurt but it was only a bruise but it still hurts to walk. The same day me and my mom had a bath before I was allowed to get in the bath my mom wanted check the bruise and it was as black as night and as big as a egg. I hope that my tenth birthday doesn't hurt as much.
