Stella Brings the Family

by Miriam B. Schiffer, c2015 (IL: K-3, RL: 3.2)

"Stella's class is having a Mother's Day celebration, but what's a girl with two daddies to do? It's not that she doesn't have someone to help her with her homework or tuck her in at night. Stella has her Papa and Daddy who take care of her, and a whole gaggle of other loved ones who make her feel special and supported every day. She just doesn't have a mom to invite to the party. Fortunately Stella finds a unique solution to her party problem in this sweet story about love, acceptance, and the true meaning of family." - SOGI 123

And Tango Makes Three

by Justin Richardson, c2008 (IL: K-3, RL: 3.2)

"This is the true story of Roy and Silo, two male Central Park Zoo penguins, who want to be parents. Thanks to an enterprising zookeeper, they are given an egg to hatch. The result is Tango, their penguin daughter." - ERAC

This Is My Family

by Pat Thomas, c2012 (IL: K-3, RL: 4.4)

"This picture book introduces children to families that have parents of the same sex. Whether a family has a mom and a dad, or two moms, or two dads, this book shows boys and girls that all parents love, care, and support their children in the same way." - ERAC

The Great Big Book of Families

by Mary Hoffman, c2010 (IL: K-3, RL: 2.8)

"This delightful picture book takes a look at the wide varieties of family life today: from homes, food, ways of celebrating, schools and holidays to getting around, jobs and housework, from extended families, languages and hobbies to pets and family trees - and concludes that, for most people, their own family is the best one of all!" - ERAC

The Family Book

by Todd Parr, c2020 (IL: K-3, RL: 1.8)

"The Family Book celebrates the love we feel for our families and all the different varieties they come in. The bright bold colours and silly scenes will engage young learners." - ERAC

Morris Micklewhite and the Tangerine Dress

by Christine Baldacchino, c2014 (IL: K-3, RL: 2.3)

"Morris is a creative, imaginative little boy who loves dreaming about space and loves wearing the tangerine dress in the dress up centre. Being different means being teased by his classmates but Morris finds a way to deal with his peers and stay true to himself." - ERAC

The Invisible Boy

by Trudy Ludwig, c2013 (IL: K-3, RL: 2.9)

"Brian is the invisible boy who is left out of everything until a new boy comes to class. This gentle story shows how small acts of kindness can help children feel included and allow them to shine." - ERAC

10,000 Dresses

by Marcu Ewert, c2008 (IL: K-3, RL: 2.2)

"Bailey dreams of creating and wearing wonderful, magical dresses but Bailey was born a boy. This picture book gently introduces young learners to the concept of transgender." - ERAC

My Princess Boy: a Mom's Story About a Young Boy Who Loves to Dress Up

by Cheryl Kilodavis, c2009 (IL: K-3, RL: 2.7)

"This is the story of a 4 year old boy who has a passion for dresses and all things sparkly, and a family who loves and supports him. It is also a call for tolerance and an end to bullying and judgments." - ERAC

In Our Mothers' House

by Patricia Polacco, c2009 (IL: K-3, RL: 3.9)

"This is the story of Marmee and Meema (two moms) and their three adopted children of differing ethnicities. The oldest child narrates as she recalls what it was like growing up within the love and comfort of her family's home." - ERAC

A Tale of Two Mommies

by Vanita Oelschlager, c2011 (IL: K-3, RL: 1.8)

"A Tale of Two Mommies is a beach conversation among three children in which a little boy with two mommies is asked about the activities his moms are involved in. As the children talk, it's clear this boy lives in a nurturing environment where the biggest issues are the everyday challenges of growing up." - ERAC

A Tale of Two Daddies

by Vanita Oelschlager, c2010 (IL: K-3, RL: 1.1)

"A Tale of Two Daddies is a playground conversation between two children in which the boy says he heard that the girl has two dads. It reflects a child's practical and innocent look at the adults who nurture and love her." - ERAC

Tutus Aren't My Style
by Linda Skeers, c2010 (IL: K-3)

"Emma receives a tutu as a birthday gift from her uncle. She tries to make the most of it, but it's just not her style. The message is that while there's nothing wrong with tutus, it's even better to be yourself." - ERAC

I Am Jazz
by Jazz Jennings, c2014 (IL: K-3, RL: 1.6)

"Jazz Jennings is a twelve year old transgendered youth and the co-author of this inspiring autobiography. Born with "a girl's brain in a boy's body", Jazz tells of her real-life experiences and how her supportive family and friends helped her be true to herself." - ERAC

Not Every Princess
by Lisa and Jeffrey Bone, c2014 (IL: K-3, RL: 3.6)

"This simply written and beautifully illustrated picture book contains a powerful message: stereotypical gender roles should not limit children's imagination, dreams or aspirations." - ERAC

All Families are Special
by Norma Simon, c2003 (IL: K-3, RL: 3.3)

"Students in Mrs. Mack's class describe their families--big or small, living together or apart, with two moms or none--and learn why every family is special and important." - SOGI 123

The Prince S.

by Mikayla Spence, c2016 (IL: K-3)

"Written in the format of a fairy tale, this whimsical picture book is appropriate for engaging early grade readers in conversations about gender, the many possibilities for expressing oneself and the acceptance of differences in others." - ERAC

We Belong Together

by Todd Parr, c2007 (IL: K-3, RL: 2.0)

"In a child-friendly, accessible way, this book captures the ways that people can choose to come together to make a family. It's sharing your home and sharing your heart that creates a family that belongs together." - ERAC

Pride: The Story of Harvey Milk and the Rainbow Flag

by Rob Sanders, c2018 (IL: K-3, RL: 3.2)

"Traces the history of the Gay Pride Flag, from its beginnings with social activist Harvey Milk and designer Gilbert Baker to its spanning of the globe and its role in today's world." - OCLC - Recommended by SLJ

Daddy, Papa, and Me

by Leslea Newman, c2009 (IL: K-3, RL: 1.1)

"Rhythmic text and illustrations with universal appeal show a toddler spending the day with its daddies. From hide-and-seek to dress-up, then bath time and a kiss goodnight, there's no limit to what a loving family can do together. Share the loving bond between same-sex parents and their children." - Pub. (* review — Hornbook)

Mommy, Mama, and Me

by Leslea Newman, c2009 (IL: K-3, RL: 1.2)

"Rhythmic text and illustrations with universal appeal show a toddler spending the day with its mommies. From hide-and-seek to dress-up, then bath time and a kiss goodnight, there's no limit to what a loving family can do together." - Pub.

A Family is a Family is a Family

by Sara O'Leary, c2016 (IL: K-3, RL: 2.3)

"When a teacher asks the children in her class to think about what makes their families special, the answers are all different in many ways—but the same in the one way that matters most of all. One child is worried that her family is just too different to explain, but listens as her classmates talk about what makes their families special..." - Pub. (SOGI 123)

One Family

by George Shannon, c2015 (IL: K-3, RL: 0.8)

"From veteran picture book author George Shannon and up-and-coming artist Blanca Gomez comes a playful, interactive book that shows how a family can be big or small and comprised of people of a range of genders and races." - Pub. (SOGI 123)

Worm Loves Worm

by J. J. Austrian, c2016 (IL: K-3, RL: 1.7)

"Two worms in love decide to get married, and with help from Cricket, Beetle, Spider, and the Bees they have everything they need and more, but which one will be the bride and which the groom?" - Pub. (SOGI 123)

Not Your Typical Dragon

by Dan Bar-el, c2013 (IL: K-3, RL: 3.5)

"When Crispin Blaze turns seven, he's expected to breathe fire like all the other dragons. But instead of fire, he breathes a host of unusual things."

- Pub. (SOGI 123)

Would You Rather be a Princess or a Dragon?

Would You Rather Be a Princess of a Dragon?

by Barney Saltzberg, c2016 (IL: K-3, RL: 2.6)

"Some little ones want to be princesses; others want to be dragons. The message of this book is that you can actually be both! There are lots of things you can be: a little wild, a little sweet. A little polite, a little troublesome. A little dainty, a little dragony..."

- Pub. (SOGI 123)

Not All Princesses Dress in Pink

by Jane Yolen, c2010 (IL: K-3, RL: 4.2)

"Rhyming text affirms that girls can pursue their many interests, from playing sports to planting flowers in the dirt, without giving up their tiaras."

- Follett (SOGI 123)

Red: A Crayon's Story

by Michael Hall, c2015 (IL: K-3, RL: 1.5)

"Red's factory-applied label clearly says that he is red, but despite the best efforts of his teacher, fellow crayons and art supplies, and family members, he cannot seem to do anything right until a new friend offers a fresh perspective." - Follett (SOGI 123)
