Pencil: A Story with a Point
by Ann Ingalls, c2020 (IL: K-3, RL: 2.5)

"Relegated to the junk drawer after his boy Jackson becomes enamored with a new tablet, Pencil rallies his fellow tools and office supplies in a pun-punctuated text. Together, they find a creative way to catch Jackson's attention: a flipbook created using their many combined talents." - Follett
Dot. Unplugged
by Randi Zuckerberg, c2020 (IL: K-3, RL: 1.6)

"It's pouring rain, and the power's gone out at Dot's house. Should they take it as a challenge to honor the National Day of Unplugging? Playing outside is out of the question, and so is using the many devices Dot is accustomed to. But what might the basement hold? Dot, her friend Hal, Mom, Dad, and Scratch find lots of exciting stuff, including an old spinner game...Their improvised game keeps them so entertained, they just might decide to stay unplugged a bit longer!" - Pub.

The Fabulous Friend Machine
by Nick Bland, c2017
"When Popcorn, the friendliest chicken at Fiddlesticks Farm, finds a forgotten smartphone in the barn, she sets about making some brand new friends. Soon she is so busy sending messages to them that she begins to forget her old friends. When a meet-up with her new friends is about to end in disaster, the quick-thinking animals of Fiddlesticks Farm save the day . . . and one relieved chicken learns a lesson." - Amazon.ca
#Goldilocks: A Hashtag Cautionary Tale
by Jeanne Willis, c2019 (IL: K-3, RL: 2.0)

"Everyone loves Goldilocks' hilarious online videos, but in her quest to get more likes, more laughs and more hits, she tries something a little more daring: stealing porridge #pipinghot, breaking chairs #fun, and using someone else's bed #sleep. What will Daddy Bear do when he sees that online? A hilarious cautionary tale for a new generation of internet-user..." - Pub.

	Blinky and the Phone Fiasco by Tripler Pell, MD, c2016 "The book is meant to be a fun and entertaining story for children under age 8. It is also a useful way for parents and small children to engage together in setting limits and explore the meaning of a healthy lifestyle. In addition, a separate section at the end of the book provides simple suggestions on how parents can make screen time safer…" - Amazon.ca
	The Sad Little Fact by Jonah Winter, c2019 (IL: K-3) "Follow a sad little fact who is locked away for telling the truth. In its underground prison, it meets other facts, all hidden away because they could not lie. Finally, with the help of a few skillful fact-finders, the facts are set free." - Pub.
	Facts vs. Opinions vs. Robots by Michael Rex, c2020 (IL: K-3, RL: 1.5) "Do you know the difference between a fact and an opinion? It can be a hard thing to understand. Some things are facts—like the number of robots in this book. Other things are opinions …Mike Rex introduces young readers to the very important distinction between facts and opinions, and he reminds us that it is nice to listen to one another's opinions, and to stand up for the facts." -Pub.
	Is There an App for That? by Bryan Smith, c2015 (IL: K-3, RL: 2.3) "Join Hailey in her comical adventures as she tries app after app, trying to be someone who just isn't, and begins to realize that trying to be like others isn't all it's cracked up to be. Hailey learns, with help from her mom and friends, that she has so much to offer just by being herself. And that to truly be happy, she needs to look within herself instead of relying on others." - Pub.
