Before Reading

Share the front cover image of this book along with its title and ask for predictions.

Invite students to carefully examine the expressions on the character's faces.

Evidence + Thinking = an Inference

What advice might be given in this book?

During Reading

Pause to let students analyze the structure of this book (topic, main idea, followed by several details about the main idea) as this will be the format for their writing.

Invite children to add their own thinking to these examples. What other ways can friends be lost?

After Reading

Create a class book in which students write all the ways they can lose friends. A second list including ways to make and keep friends will help balance things out!

COMMUNICATION

The communication competency encompasses the set of abilities that students use to impart and exchange information, experiences and ideas, to explore the world around them, and to understand and effectively engage in the use of digital media.

THINKING

The thinking competency encompasses the knowledge, skills and processes we associate with intellectual development and is demonstrated through:

- creative thinking
- critical thinking

PERSONAL & SOCIAL

The personal and social competency includes

- positive personal & cultural identity
- personal awareness & responsibility
- social responsibility

How to Lose All Your Friends

Based on the book by Nancy Carlson

By: _____

| | How to Lose All Your Friends: |
|----|--------------------------------------------------------|
| 1. | Never smile. |
| | Frown all day long. |
| 2. | Hurt people. |
| | Kick them in the shins so they fall down. |
| 3. | Be a bully. |
| | Make sure they are always behind you in the line. |
| 4. | Say mean things. |
| | Tell them that they are wearing baby clothes. |
| 5. | Whine. |
| | Use a loud, shrieking voice that will hurt their ears. |
