At the Library: A Shine-a-Light Book

by Heather Alexander, c2019

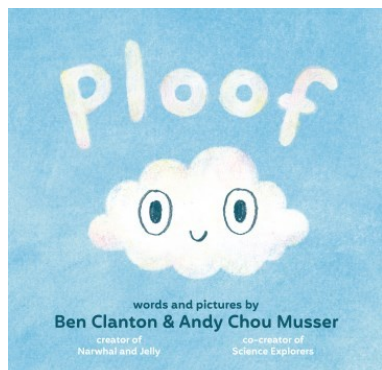

"What's it like inside a library? Who is welcome, how do you use one and what is there to do? This beautifully illustrated book introduces children to libraries, big and small, and all of the amazing things these institutions have to offer. From books to computers, from story time to special guests and from unique collections to very important rules. This is a wonderful way for children to learn about libraries and the value of reading, sharing and community." - Amazon.ca

Hey, Bruce: An Interactive Book

by Ryan T. Higgins, c2023

In Hey, Bruce!, Bruce the bear experiences . . . well, whatever readers want him to. Rupert, Thistle, and Nibbs, the fun-loving mice in Bruce's begrudgingly expansive family, guide readers on a quest for a fun reading experience, with Bruce the ever-reluctant star. As readers turn the page, flip the book, and follow the mice's increasingly silly instructions, Bruce is sent flying and tumbling--all as he looks right up the reader's nose!"

Ploof

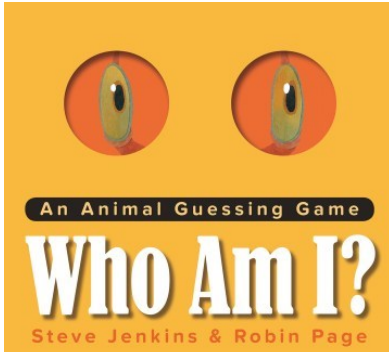

by Ben Clanton , c2023 (IL: K-2, RL: 1.0)

Who Am I: An animal Guessing Game

by Steve Jenkins, c2017 (IL: K-2, RL: 2.7)

"I have two big yellow eyes, soft, silky feathers, eight sharp claws, and an unlucky mouse in my pointy black beak. Who am I? Who Am I? gives reader clues so they can guess which animal will be revealed in a beautiful, full-spread illustration when they turn the page. Playful nouns, adjectives, and verbs describe the characteristics and movements of each animal. Minimal yet descriptive text encourages visual literacy and positions this title as a wonderful learning to read book." - Pub.

Tap! Tap! Tap! Dance! Dance! Dance!

by Hervé Tullet, c2023

"Starting with a gentle glide, growing in complexity and animation, finally building to a crescendo of color, action, and movement--here's a book perfect for kids bursting with energy. A celebration not only of releasing emotion but also of carefully controlling motion and dexterity. It's the perfect activity for getting your ya-yas out and a welcome boon for parents, gift-givers, and teachers looking for an ultra-creative way of channeling energy."
