

Dear colleagues,

The information in this email will be posted to the LRC News section in Learn71 for future referral.

June 9-13: All items are due back. If, however, you need to hang onto a kit for a few more days, that's ok too 😊. Please also return any individual items that get separated from their returned kits via interschool mail envelope. They are always appreciated.

August 27, 9:00-11:00: LRC pro-d workshop. Learn how to search and book LRC resources and create resource lists for efficient booking. Browse the collections (French and English) while all the kits are in.

August 28 at 4:00: First day you will be able to book LRC kits. Please read the borrowing guidelines posted in the General Information section of the LRC in Learn71. Before this day and time, all booking calendars will be red.

September 3: First day kits will be delivered to the island schools (September 4 for Thursday schools and September 9 for Tuesday schools), so you may select these as your start date when booking.

If you are changing schools, please speak with your school's Library Clerk or Teacher Librarian. They have received a document from us to which your name can be added. If the LRC is not aware that you have transferred sites, and your account is glitchy when you book LRC resources, it is highly likely that you will lose your bookings when it is noticed and fixed. If you are not changing schools, double check the day before that you are still able to log into your school library. If you are not attending the pro-d workshop, tip sheets for searching and booking can be found here if needed.

You may borrow books from the LRC Professional Library over the summer as well as individual copies of novel set titles. The best way to do this is to come to the LRC before June 27, browse the collection, and have the Library Clerks sign them out for you. You can also email "LRC Circulation Desk" or call them at the number below. You will not be able to book them online as the booking calendars close on June 13.

Thank you,

LRC Staff
