HOW-TO: LAMP Words for Life Basic Editing

LAMP Words for Life is a robust language system based on the principle of motor planning efficiency and organized with semantic compaction (many meanings in a small space) in a consistent pattern. Although LAMP is customizable, additions should be made mindfully and edits to the layout are discouraged. LAMP has been very well thought out by a speech-language pathologist and an occupational therapist to meet the needs of early communicators and those with a fully developed communication system.

Important things, people, places and activities can and should be added to the appropriate pages so that individuals have access to items and people that are important to them. (Other than these types of NOUN additions, it is important to consult with the speech-language pathologist about additions or changes to be made to personalize the vocabulary).
